UNITED NATIONS 20TH INTERNATIONAL HUMAN RIGHTS SUMMIT

HAITIAN CIVIL SOCIETY DELEGATION

July 30 – August 1, 2026

United Nations Headquarters
New York City, New York

WELCOME DELEGATES

United Nations 20th International Human Rights Summit

Dear Haitian Civil Society Delegates,

On behalf of the Global Confederation for Promotion and Development (GCPD) and the First Haitian-American Lions Club, we are honored to welcome you as members of the Haitian Civil Society Delegation to the United Nations 20th International Human Rights Summit.

This delegation brings together an exceptional group of leaders from Haiti and the Haitian Diaspora who share a common commitment to advancing human rights, promoting sustainable development, and elevating the voices of the Haitian people on the global stage. Your diverse experiences, professional expertise, and dedication to service strengthen our collective ability to contribute meaningfully to international dialogue and action.

For this Summit, the delegation has identified three policy and advocacy priorities that guide our engagement and represent our shared commitment to addressing some of Haiti's most urgent human rights challenges:

- Security, Gang Violence, and Youth Protection
- Access to Health Services for Youth in Haiti
- Awareness and the Fight Against Gender-Based Violence

Throughout the Summit, you will engage with fellow civil society leaders, government representatives, United Nations officials, international organizations, and human rights advocates from around the world. We encourage you to participate actively, share your expertise, and build partnerships that extend beyond this gathering.

For the Organizing Committee of the Haitian Civil Society Delegation

As delegates, you represent not only your respective organizations but also the resilience, innovation, and aspirations of the Haitian people—both in Haiti and across the Diaspora. By working together around these shared priorities, we can amplify our collective voice and contribute to meaningful dialogue and lasting solutions that promote human dignity, justice, peace, and inclusive development.

This delegate packet has been prepared to support your participation and includes information on the Summit agenda, delegation activities, logistical details, and resources to help you prepare. We encourage you to review these materials carefully and make the most of every opportunity to learn, collaborate, and advocate.

Thank you for your commitment to human rights and your dedication to the Haitian community. It is our privilege to coordinate this delegation, and we look forward to the impact your contributions will make. We wish you a productive, rewarding, and inspiring Summit experience.
